

Meddlings

For ensemble ad lib. and audience

Written with support from SNYK.

General information:

- Duration is to be decided in beforehand by the musicians.
- The musicians must agree on a section (a - k) where to start.
- All musicians must at all times be in the same section.
- Musicians can individually decide whether they participate or not for each section.
- The sections must be followed clockwise.

Rules:

- One or more audience members can at any time stop the music by standing up if they need a change – and the musicians must then take a short break, - then go on to the next section. If a musician need a change, this can be shown with hand signal, and the same procedure takes place.
